

Hello Mark,

I am on a vacation in Chile, and I just remembered that Easter Island was close here so I am on a tour.

Can you believe that there are 600 statues all over the island and they are 13m high. I wonder how long it took them to make all these statues. Some of the statues are designed, Did you know that their eyes are made of red lava? All the statues have something unique about them. Some have crowns that weigh 27 tonnes. The Most interesting part of the tour was the tablet that had an unknown language, I couldn't believe that there's actually more languages. Well I got to go now, I have more site seeing to do!!

See you soon,
